Friend,

September is National Recovery Month and Healthy Aging Month, a reminder of resilience and renewal. These observances call us to reflect on what it means to heal, to thrive, and to secure wellness for our communities at every age and every stage of life.

But reflection alone isn't enough. We must act, and that's where you come in.

The ACE Your Health Community Wellness Survey is still open, giving you the chance to share the real experiences, barriers, and opportunities that shape health in your community. From access to care and mental health support to resources that help us age with dignity, your voice helps drive solutions.

 The survey closes on Tuesday, September 30, at midnight. Don't miss your chance to be heard.

→ Take the survey today.

When we speak up together, we shine a light on the changes needed to build healthier futures for Black families everywhere. Let's close out this September with purpose.

P.S. Don't miss Building a Healthier Future: Designing AI for Health Equity tonight at 7 p.m. ET. During this exclusive public launch event, attendees will learn about a new task force the NAACP Center for Health Equity is launching in partnership with Sanofi to ensure that artificial intelligence and machine learning are used in an inclusive way to promote and support health equity. RSVP now.
