Dear friends,

Tarik Kiley and I have decided to revamp the "CharMeck Chronicle" into a brand-new blog: "Words and Movements!"

During our sabbatical, we came up with the concept of a more efficient way to communicate during these tumultuous times, which led to the development of our new blog. We will be posting more frequently to update you on current activities nationally, as well as in and around the Charlotte area.

We hope you enjoy this new project - "Words and Movements!"

Be Blessed!
