In this season of gratitude, I'm reflecting on what gives me hope, even in challenging times.

At the top of my mind are the changemakers in our Obama Foundation family. These inspirational leaders are passionate about helping others and committed to creating positive change in their communities and across our world.

We want to do something special to recognize and appreciate their hard work. Will you join me and sign a thank you card for them? You can also add an optional note of encouragement.

SEND A NOTE

Your words of gratitude will mean so much!

There are so many folks in our community who are catalysts for change, from Obama Foundation Leaders tackling our world's most pressing issues like climate change and health care to Girls Opportunity Alliance partners propelling girls to reach their full potential and mentors in the My Brother's Keeper Alliance working to improve real-life outcomes for boys and young men of color.

This is our opportunity to thank them for their fierce dedication, tenacity, and commitment to building a more just, equitable, and sustainable world.

I hope you'll join me and take just a few minutes of your time to sign the card and leave a message of gratitude and support for The Obama Foundation changemakers!

We're collecting the signatures and notes in time for Thanksgiving, so the deadline to sign the card is this Wednesday, November 26. I hope to see your name in the bunch before we share these out!

Thanks for being a part of The Obama Foundation community!

—Valerie
